It is the mission of the Council Bluffs Public Library to enrich, inform, and empower the community. The Council Bluffs Public Library recognizes the rights of holders of copyright for materials and will not knowingly allow violation of the law either by staff or by the public.

The Council Bluffs Public Library complies with federal copyright law (Title 17, U.S. Code). It is the intent of this law to protect the rights of copyright owners from unauthorized reproduction of their works. Copyrighted materials may include, but are not limited to, all printed matter, audio recordings, video recordings, computer software, databases and digital files that are owned by the library or downloaded from the Internet.

However, the law also recognizes the public benefit of allowing citizens to do limited copying from copyrighted works for educational purposes.
